1. Purpose

This policy applies to the Board, executive team, management, employees and contractors to govern their actions in the execution of their duties on behalf of Alberta Innovates and its subsidiaries. The people of Alberta expect and deserve transparent, accountable government. They must have confidence that people working with public bodies are trustworthy and focused on advancing the Province’s interests. People working for public bodies must use their position to serve the public interest, rather than pursue private gain. This policy demonstrates Alberta Innovates and its subsidiaries commitment to these principles and to a high standard of ethical conduct that upholds the integrity and reputation of our organization. The purpose of this policy is to provide a framework for ensuring ethical conduct within our organization through the disclosure and effective management of conflicts of interest and by providing guidance on the conduct and exercise of diligence.

Alberta Innovates is a public agency to which the Alberta Public Agencies Governance Act applies (and the subsidiaries of the public agency). This policy has been sent to the Ethics Commissioner to ensure it follows the requirements of the Conflicts of Interest Act, RSA 2000, c C-23.

2. Policy Statement

2.1 Code of Conduct

The following outlines the values and operating principles and behavioral standards of our organization:

2.2 Values

We expect and require that individuals act in ways that uphold and model our organization’s core values.

Respect

We treat everyone with respect, fairness and consideration.

We value differences of opinion and believe they lead to better decision making and innovative solutions.

Integrity

We act ethically, with honesty and good faith to operate the business of our organization.

We shall be impartial and objective in our actions having a regard to the best interests of our organization and the Province of Alberta.

Accountability

We deliver on our commitments.

We manage and utilize property and assets under our organization's stewardship in a responsible and transparent manner and in accordance with the expectations of [our clients], innovation system partners and shareholder.

2.3 Operating Principles

We must comply with all applicable laws, which is core to safeguarding the trust placed in us by our shareholder. Violations of applicable laws will damage our organization's reputation and impede its ability to operate its business. For instance, our commitment to health and safety requires we comply with all applicable provisions of Alberta's Occupational Health and Safety Act and our commitment to openness and transparency requires we facilitate disclosure to public records as required by Alberta's Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act.

We strive to comply with any lawful direction properly received from our shareholder which the Board determines to be in the best interest of our organization.

The Board is responsible to ensure the CEO has in place appropriate policy instruments to enforce, monitor, regularly report on and audit legislative compliance by individuals in the conduct of our business.

We expect and require that individuals act in way that uphold and model our organization's operating principles, which are:

- a) the actions and decisions of individuals are made to promote the public interest and to advance the mandate and long-term interests of our organization;
- b) we are responsible stewards of public resources. This is specifically important for our organization given the trust placed in us to oversee the responsible management of the Government of Alberta's investment in innovation in the Province;
- c) to serve the public interest, we have a responsibility to uphold our organization's mandate;
- d) we have a responsibility to act in good faith and to place our organizations interests of Alberta Innovates above their own private interests;
- e) we behave in a way that demonstrates that our behaviour and actions are fair and reasonable in the circumstance. This means we must conduct ourselves in an unbiased and neutral manner and treat all matters with impartiality and objectivity;
- f) we enjoy the same rights in their private dealings as any other Albertan, unless it is demonstrated that a restriction is necessary in the public interest;
- g) we know that when we become aware of an actual or perceived conflict of interest, we must at the first opportunity disclose this conflict utilizing the appropriate process;
- h) we understand that disclosure itself does not remove a conflict of interest;
- i) we require our colleagues to act fairly and ethically and know that they are able to raise concerns about a suspected wrongdoing by another without fear of reprisal through the Whistleblower Standard;
- j) Individuals know that if they have any questions about this policy, or are not sure how to apply these principles, they should consult with their supervisor.

2.4 Behavioral Standards

Our organization expects and requires all individuals to adhere to the following behavioral standards:

- a) not to engage in any criminal activity and comply with all relevant laws, regulations, policies and procedures;
- b) not to use their status or position to influence or gain a benefit or advantage for themselves or others – for instance by using their standing to direct grant funding to an organization they or a friend / family member have a financial interest in;
- c) commit to providing a diverse, respectful and safe workplace that is free from bullying, discrimination, harassment, intimidation or violence or threats thereof;
- d) not to use drugs or alcohol in a way that affects their performance and safety or the performance and safety of their colleagues, or that negatively impacts the reputation or operations of the Corporation;
- e) act in a way that is consistent with the Corporation's protocols on public comment, for instance by referring media requests to our communications department and by being mindful of our confidentiality obligations; and
- f) take reasonable steps to avoid situations where they may be placed in an actual or perceived conflict between their private interests and the interests of our organization.
- g) not to act in self-interest or further their private interest by their position or through the carrying out of their duties.

2.5 Information

Individuals must respect and protect information, use it only for the work of our organization and to not use it for personal gain. Individuals must comply with our organization's policy instruments that guide the collection, storage, use, transmission and disclosure of information.

Once an individual leaves, they must not disclose information that they became aware of during their time with our organization and must not use their contacts with their former colleagues to gain an unfair advantage for their current circumstance.

2.6 Gifts and Gratuities

Individuals must not use their position with our organization to solicit gifts, hospitality, or other benefits. However, individuals may accept or receive gifts, gratuities, and hospitality in the following limited instances:

- a) within the course of the normal exchange of gifts between friends or business colleagues;
- b) tokens exchanged as part of protocol;
- c) hospitality that is incidental to a meeting such as a business lunch; or
- d) the normal presentation of gifts of nominal or no monetary value to people participating in public functions; provided in all instances that such gifts, hospitality or other benefits must not be of such a nature that could have a real, apparent, or potential influence on an individual's objectivity and neutrality in performing their duties on behalf of our organization.

Individuals must not solicit or receive cash or cash equivalents as gifts.

The value of a single tangible gift permitted under this section shall not exceed $100. The total value of all tangible gifts received by an individual in a calendar year from a single source shall not exceed $200. Hospitality that is incidental to a meeting (such as a business lunch) is considered a tangible gift and subject to these limits.

The value of a single event invitation, inclusive of admission, travel fees, hospitality and accommodation, shall not exceed $200. The total value of all event invitations received by an individual in a calendar year from a single source shall not exceed $400.

Individuals may accept paid conference passes to a conference organized by a client or partner. The value of any single conference pass accepted (inclusive of admission, travel fees, and hospitality) shall not exceed $1,000. The total value of all conference passes received from a single source in a calendar year shall not exceed $2,000. Any conference pass exceeding these monetary limits may be accepted with prior written approval from the Corporate Secretary, whose permission shall be granted in writing, in accordance with the principles and provisions of this policy, and where acceptance of the conference pass would not create a real or apparent conflict of interest.

2.7 Property

Individuals may have limited use of our organization's premises and equipment for authorized incidental purposes providing such use involves minimal additional expense to our organization, must not interfere with our organization's mandate and must not support a personal business. For instance, individuals may print a small document for personal use but will not use our equipment to print brochures for an outside business.

2.8 Related Persons or Parties

Individuals must avoid dealing with those in which the relationship between them might bring into question the impartiality of that individual, for instance a spouse, close friend, or family member.

3. Conflict of Interest

Individuals considering a new offer of appointment or employment must be aware of and manage any actual or perceived conflict of interest between their current position and their future circumstance and must remove themselves from any decisions affecting their new appointment or employment. Individuals may take supplementary outside employment, including self-employment, and participate in volunteer opportunities while working for our organization but must disclose the outside employment on a new Conflict of Interest Declaration Form as prescribed in Section 3.3. Individuals should not accept any additional compensation for duties they already perform in the course of their public service employment with our organization. Outside employment or volunteer opportunities must not:

- a) cause any actual or perceived conflict of interest (for instance, working or volunteering for an outside company that our organization directs funding to);
- b) interfere with the individuals' regular duties with our organization; or
- c) involve the use of our organization's premises or equipment, unless such use is otherwise authorized.

Individuals are expected to behave in a way that aligns with this policy and to use common sense and good judgment in deciding whether actual or perceived conflict of interest may exist.

Individuals can participate in political activities, including membership in a political party, supporting a candidate running for elected office, or running for elected office. They must not raise money for a political party. Any political activity must be separate from the organization. These activities cannot be done while at work or using the organization's resources.

As this policy does not cover every specific scenario of an actual or perceived conflict of interest, individuals should use the spirit and intent behind this policy.

3.1 Duties of and Specific Provisions related to Directors

Directors will be held to the highest ethical standards. Pursuant to our organization's By-laws, the affairs of our organization are managed and directed by the directors. The directors, by virtue of their position of control over the affairs of our organization, owe what is called a “fiduciary” duty to our organization. This means they have a legal obligation to act in the best interests of our organization. The Director's obligations can be split into two main branches – a duty of care and a duty of loyalty. The duty of care requires that our organization's Directors perform their duties to a certain standard of care. That standard of care is informed by such items as our governing legislation - the Alberta Research and Innovation Act, and any accompanying regulations - and our organization's By-laws. The duty of loyalty imposes an obligation of honesty, loyalty, and good faith in all dealings with our organization.

Because of this unique relationship between the Directors and the organization, it is of specific importance that a director must disclose, using the Conflict of interest Declaration form, all material interests they, or any person not dealing at arm's length with the director, may have in any entity that may have a Transaction with Alberta Innovates. The disclosure of this interest is evaluated to determine whether the actual or perceived conflict may be managed or whether the Transaction with Alberta Innovates should not be allowed to proceed.

Alberta Innovates may enter into a Transaction with a Director or Related Person if,

- a) the affected director:
 - i. declares a conflict of interest in respect of the proposed Transaction; and
 - ii. discloses to the Board or Committee the full nature and extent of his/her interest in the proposed Transaction and, to the extent that he is able, the interest of any Related Person in the proposed Transaction; and
- b) it is established to the satisfaction of the Board or Committee that:
 - i. the proposed Transaction is fair and reasonable to the organization and is valued the same as if the parties were unrelated.
 - ii. the proposed Transaction would meet or exceed community expectations about the conduct of the organization
- c) the Board or Committee approves the proposed Transaction.
- d) If the director, or any person not dealing at arm's length with the director, is related to a service provider that is providing services to an entity contemplating a transaction Alberta Innovates, the conflict will be reviewed with an attempt to manage the conflict if possible;
- e) If the director, or any person not dealing at arm's length with the director, is an employee of the entity contemplating a transaction with Alberta Innovates, the conflict will be reviewed with an attempt to manage the conflict if possible;
- f) If the director, or any person not dealing at arm's length with the director, is a shareholder, lender, director, joint venture partner or partner of the entity contemplating a Transaction with Alberta Innovates, the conflict will fall into three categories:

- i. the director's or related party's interest in the entity is not material to the overall interests of the Director;
- ii. the entity is publically traded and the director's or related party's interest in the entity do not exceed 5% of the issued and outstanding shares or a material loan or other financial support to the entity;
- iii. the director or related party is either a director of the entity or has a material shareholdings or financial interests in the entity.

In the case of categories f) i) and ii), the conflict will be reviewed with an attempt to manage the conflict if possible.

In the case of category f) iii), any contemplated transaction with Alberta Innovates will not be allowed to proceed. In this instance, this course of action is recommended due to the perceived conflict and Alberta Innovates' status as a government owned entity that needs to maintain the public confidence in order to properly discharge its functions.

The Board may review any decision made by a Committee to approve a Transaction.

When authorizing a Transaction, the Board may impose any conditions it deems necessary in the circumstances to protect our organization or to safeguard public confidence in its undertakings.

The director shall recuse himself/herself from discussions and shall not be part of the quorum making the decisions relating to the proposed Transaction.

Where the Board approves a Transaction, an entry shall be made into the minutes of the meeting confirming the approval of the Transaction by the Board or Committee.

The written report will be given to the individual under investigation and any other persons involved.
